QUEEN TITLE IS ONE STEP CLOSER—Contestants for the title of Salem sesquicentennial queen are busier than ever selling tickets to secure votes in the eight remaining days of the contest. But once in a while they find time to examine the regalia which one of the girls will wear throughout the celebration week.

In the photo above a few of the top vote-getters are shown casting admiring glances at the fur-crested queen's robe (l. to r.): Sandy Bailey, who had not been listed in the first 20 prior to yesterday when she jumped to third place position; Sue Perrault, who moved this week from 10th to fourth place; Joan Whitten, who maintained a first-place lead after the two vote counts, shown wearing the crown and robe; and Carol Brautigam, in fifth place this week, coming from eighth place.

'Sea-Air' Service Set Tomorrow

Parade Will Start Here At 10 a. m.

Four veterans organizations from Salem will conduct a sea and air Memorial Service for war dead at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Guilford Lake. A special flag raising will be held. The public is invited to attend the service at West Pavilion.

Auxiliary members of the various organizations will place flowers in the lake in memory of the men that died at sea; a plane piloted by Legionnaire Paul Birtalan will drop flowers from the air in memory of men who died in the air; and three rifle volleys will be fired by the Charles H. Carey Post 56 Memorial Group.

The Memorial Day parade here Wednesday will form at 9:30 a. m. with one section on N. Broadway and another on S. Broadway. Patriotic organizations, veterans' organizations, girl scouts and boy scouts have been assigned their positions in the line-up. The parade will begin at 10 a. m.

Marching to Hope Cemetery, headed by the American Legion Quaker City Band, will be representatives of the American Legion and its auxiliary, the Sons of Union Veterans, the Women's Relief Corps, Brownies and Intermediate Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and school children.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary, the Amvets and

Three County Road Repair Projects Are In Progress

Three road repair projects are in progress in the county. George Gonzales, resident engineer at Lisbon for the State Highway Department reports.

The Edgar Spring Co. of Dover has started placing bituminous surface on Rt. 30 from Lisbon to the Hanover Township line.

This is part of a project let to the Kelly-Meyer Co. of Youngstown March 20, and sublet to the Edgar Spring Co. Total length of the project is 4.19 miles.

The other part of the contract covers a section of Rt. 164 from the Center Township line to one mile south of Columbiana, a total of 4.99 miles. Total cost of the project is $74,570.40 and is to be completed by August 1. Traffic will be maintained during the work, according to Gonzales.

The Sutton and Stewart Co. of Bridgeport are working on Rt. 9 from Hanover toward Salem, a total of 7.382 miles.

Grading on this project is about one-third completed, the roadway was widened and culverts were extended and completed. A new bituminous surface 2 inches thick will be poured.

Completion date is set for Sept. 30. Cost of the project is $359,340.24, Gonzales said. Traffic is being maintained.

Earl Newell and Sons Co. of Columbiana are working on the bypass of Columbiana with Rt. 14 alternate, and they have about one-third of the grading completed. Work was delayed by rain.

The bridge over Mill Creek, a 116-foot span, is ready for steel deck, but there may be some delay in steel delivery, according to Gonzales.

Completion date is set for Sept. 30, at a cost of $269,068.82.

Abortion Case Goes To Jury

Daniel Awaits Verdict On Death Of Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—A jury of 10 men and 2 women starts deliberations today in the trial of a young man charged with manslaughter in the abortion death of his blonde sweetheart.

Both the state and the defense offered final arguments Monday. The trial began in General Sessions Court May 7.

The defense pictured Thomas G. Daniel, 25, as the victim of a girl who pretended to be an angel but lived a life of "free love."

The state, on the other hand, said Daniel used Jacqueline Smith, 20, "when he needed her, when he wanted her, and when he did not, he tried to get rid of her."

Miss Smith, a pretty fabrics designer from Lebanon, Pa., died in Daniel's apartment last Christmas Eve during a bungled abortion. Daniel faces up to 20 years in prison if convicted.

Defense lawyer Francis X. Dianna, who is from Daniel's home town of Warren, Ohio, ended his case by telling the jury:

"Too much of a good Samaritan, he winds up as a victim of circumstance. He is the victim of a girl who pretended to be his family and friends that she was a little angel when she was in fact just a girl who liked to enjoy so-called free love."

The state alleged that Daniel arranged for Miss Smith to undergo

Warns on Downspouts Connected to Sewers

Homeowners whose residences have downspouts connected to the city's sanitary sewer system will be given 90 days to remove them, Mayor Dean B. Cranmer announced today.

The mayor stated that within the next 10 days, the service department will inspect the rainspouts on all homes in the city and will notify residents if their downspouts are connected to sanitary sewers.

City ordinance provides a penalty up to $200 a day for each day a downspout is connected to sanitary sewers after the homeowner has been notified.

The program to remove all downspouts connected in the sanitary sewer system has been instituted due to flooding conditions in the cellars of many homes caused by sanitary sewers backing up after heavy rains.

Texas Jury Gets Case of County Airman Today

Salineville Man, 18, On Trial For Slaying Of Tax Office Worker

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—The trial of Roy Allen Hunter, 18-year-old Ohio airman charged with murder, was due to go to the jury today.

One of the last witnesses, Philip Lakin of Vance Air Force Base at Enid, Okla., testified Monday that Hunter, who did not own a car, offered to drive him to New York about three hours before Jack Spangler, 26, a city tax office employee, was shot to death Dec. 16.

Hunter is charged with shooting Spangler and taking his car.

Lakin also testified he sold Hunter the gun which the state maintains was used in the shooting. Both were stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base near here.

Lakin testified Hunter told him "he was going to get a man's car and drive me to Buffalo, N. Y."

Hunter, the final witness who was supposed to appear in court May 21 and did not arrive until Monday, was held in contempt of court and was fined $500.

Lakin flew here from Newburgh, N. Y.

He testified Spangler asked him three times to engage in an act of sodomy during the summer of 1955. He said he told Spangler "he ever put his hands on me I would knock out about five teeth."

Lakin said he knew that Spangler had a reputation as a sex pervert.

The defense maintains Hunter shot Spangler in self defense after Spangler made improper advances toward Hunter. The state charges robbery was the motive.

The jury was expected to begin deliberations about 4 p. m. today.

'Spirit of Fun' Rules Sesqui Celebration

No laws govern the celebration of the sesquicentennial in Salem; rather, each event is being planned in a spirit of fun and festivity.

The committee working on the event emphasize that all activities are slated for humorous participation by the city's citizens.

Men or women need not purchase the official badges, hats, bonnets, other clothing or souvenirs being sold; nor is anyone forced to take the wooden nickels which have been made legal tender in the city until after the end of the observance June 17.

The buttons being sold are for membership in the Sisters of the Swish, Brothers of the Brush and Chicken Brothers. Costumes and souvenirs are being sold for persons wishing to participate in the festivities, and are optional.

Before persons are picked up by Keystone Cops which will patrol the city, and brought to trial or placed into stocks, they will be contacted. No one will be directly arrested and immediately taken for punishment.

Instead, a member of the committee will contact all prospective prisoners beforehand, and will receive his or her permission for arrest or trial, whichever the case may be. All mandatory action in connection with the sesqui is expected to be in the humorous vein and will not harm anyone.

The sesqui headquarters and committees have received numerous enquiries on the subject of purchase of the articles and prospective punishments.

According to George Bowman, general sesqui chairman, any persons "who feel they have been unfairly pressured into purchasing articles, may return them to headquarters for the articles will be refunded.

Train Wreck Killing 3 Is Probed

This feed mill at Atwater, was almost demolished when the mail car of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Steeler hurtled off the tracks and smashed into it. Farmer Charles Fouser, 41, father of six children, waiting for some feed to be ground, was found dead in the debris. The train was derailed when a truck crashed into it at an unguarded crossing on the main street of Atwater. In addition to Fouser, the truck driver and the train's brakeman were killed. Seven others were injured.

Derailed coaches of the Steeler, Pittsburgh-to-Cleveland Pennsylvania Railroad train, sprawl along the tracks at Atwater. The arrow at the top of this aerial photo shows wreckage of the truck which slammed into the train's diesel engine, disconnecting five cars. Three persons were killed. Seven other persons were injured.

Area Lakes, Parks To Open For Season On Memorial Day

Memorial Day will preview the summer months when many area parks, lakes and clubs open officially tomorrow.

Despite cool waters, many children may be splashing about in the city swimming pool and surrounding lakes. Most adults, however, will probably confine their water activities to boating and fishing.

For the holiday tomorrow, the weatherman has predicted a warm and humid day with partly cloudy skies.

Many clubs will highlight Memorial Day with dances in the evening.

Centennial, Kelley and Memorial Parks will officially open for the summer season tomorrow. The city's swimming pool will open at 1 p. m. The pool's filtration plant was put into operation May 22 and the correct pH and chlorine residual was reached Thursday.

Picnic tables at Centennial Park have been refinished by park maintenance crews and are ready for use. Wood has been cut and piled by the fireplaces for picnickers. The park commission pointed out that tables have a time limit of one hour per picnic group due to the high demand for these tables.

Centennial ball diamonds are presently in use for the Mickey McGuire public school softball league. Softball Association games and Hot

Benson to Put Soil Bank Into Effect This Year

Ike Says Measure Has Shortcomings, But More Advantages

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration moved today to put the new farm law into effect, but it may be days before farmers will know what benefits they can expect from it this year.

President Eisenhower signed the measure late Monday, saying that it had shortcomings but that its advantages outweighed its "harmful provisions."

Thus ended more than a year of maneuvering between the administration and the Democratic leadership of Congress, with some Republican backing, over new farm legislation.

The law carries provisions for a $1,200,000,000-a-year soil bank program, but just how much of the money may be made available this crop year is a matter which will be determined by decisions to be made by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Benson, who said he was glad Eisenhower approved the measure, said his department is "proceeding with judicious haste" to put the soil bank plan into effect this year. Under this program, farmers will be offered payments for taking land out of production of surplus crops.

Benson said in a statement Monday night that this year will not provide "a fair test" of the soil bank because practically all crops have been planted. Eisenhower expressed regret that the soil bank had not been enacted earlier.

Nevertheless, soil bank money could be made available to a relatively large acreage if Benson offered liberal conditions. If he

Police Jury Visits Scene Of Burglary

LISBON — The Joseph Berman Lumber Co. in East Liverpool, scene of an alleged burglary by suspended East Liverpool patrolman Ira Cunningham, 50, and former special officer Jerry Raymond, 33, was visited this morning by a Common Pleas Court jury of three men and nine women as the trial entered the second day.

The panel was sworn in Monday afternoon at 3:15 after a total of six peremptory challenges were made by attorneys in lengthy questioning of prospective jurors about possible prejudice.

In a 45-minute visit to East Liverpool, the panel visited the lumber company, Cunningham's white frame house on Reilly Ave. where he is supposed to have used stolen lumber for an addition, and also visited a garage-like building on Moore St. where Robert McBane, 33, and Dallas Bishop, 38, had a trading shop.

McBane, a former East Liverpool policeman, and Bishop, a former special policeman, pleaded guilty to burglary charges and will testify for the state.

The group was accompanied by Norman Ward, court assignment commissioner, along with the two defendants and their attorneys. The jury returned to the courthouse at 11:10 a. m.

The state is expected to open its

Regaining Lost Ground

By HAL BOYLE

SYLVA, N. C. — Many men who dream a big dream and make it come true learn to their surprise that it isn't what they really wanted after all.

But what can they do? Most remain embittered prisoners of a phantom success they no longer enjoy but are afraid to give up.

It takes a good man to give up his hard-won position at the peak and fight back down the rocky road he has traveled in order to regain something finer he lost earlier on the way up.

Such a man is John Parris, the only reporter I can name offhand who covers his beat in his own Cadillac.

John's ancestors journeyed from the coastal plain into the mountains of western North Carolina along rude horse and oxen paths shortly after the American Revolution, and the family has put its roots down pretty deep here since then.

But John, who became a reporter at 13 and never encumbered his mind with college lumber, got a yearning for the far places. Like most small town newspapermen, he dreamed of becoming a top byline writer in the big city.

He did. Before he was 23 he was writing daily feature articles out of New York for a news agency.

But more distant fields called. John went to London during the blitz raids. He landed as a war correspondent with the initial Allied forces that invaded Africa on Nov. 8, 1942.

After the war, John returned to New York, became a diplomatic correspondent for The Associated Press and covered the birth and development of the United Nations. He scored a number of notable beats. Covering the homing birds at set and its intrigues was heady, exciting, important. Yet something, he didn't know what was missing.

In 1946 he met and within five weeks married Dorothy Luxton, a pretty art teacher from Topeka, Kan. But he had the forethought to tell her when he proposed: "Honey, you may have to learn to use a double-bitted axe to cut up the wood to keep a fire going."

Soon after, his father, a jeweler here, died, and John took a leave of absence to come down and settle the estate.

"Almost as soon as I got here," he recalled, "I realized what was missing in my life. It was a kind of happiness I had known in the hills, and hadn't been able to find anywhere else."

It took a lot of courage for John to resign his job as a diplomatic correspondent at the United Nations and start his career all over in his old home town. It took a lot of understanding on his wife's part to back him. But she did.

It wasn't easy. John spent two years on a novel that didn't quite come off, but, as he says, "may yet."

But in 1950 he began promoting "Unto these Hills," a pioneer outdoor drama of the Cherokee Indians that this year may draw its millionth spectator. On top of this and some magazine writing chores John started writing a column called "Roaming the Hills" for the Asheville Citizen.

It spread faster than the rhododendron does in June. A book of his collected vignettes of mountain people and old mountain customs recently sold out a first edition printing of 10,000 copies in a few weeks. More books are in prospect.

Everywhere John goes in the mountains he is recognized and welcomed. He purrs his Cadillac 200 to 300 miles on an average day, and may ride through four rainbows. He never drove through a single rainbow on his way to work at the United Nations.

MISSILE MEN — Rear Adm. J. E. Clarke, left, director, Guided Missiles Division, Chief of Naval Operations, and Lt. Gen. President Eisenhower is reported as unhappy over the military feud on missiles.

1,691 Schools Now In Lunch Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio schools will spend more than $4 million dollars on the lunch program in the school year now ending.

R. M. Eymann, state superintendent of public instruction, said 1,691 schools are participating in the program which serves low-cost lunches daily to about 390,000 children.

Federal aid for the program this year totaled $2,159,834 with Department of Agriculture-donated commodities having a wholesale value of four million dollars, Eymann said.

Federal assistance for the milk program totaled $2,393,113. About 2,480 schools have participated in this program, which distributes an average of one million gallons of milk monthly to Ohio school children.

Judge Frees Farmer Confused By Red Tape

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge Charles G. Briggie sympathized today with a Greenville, Ill. farmer who said he was confused by federal farm program paper work.

C. Orville Smith was accused of failing to pay federal wheat crop insurance premiums totaling $52.50 on 1953-54 policies. Smith, who defended himself, said he did not intend to renew his insurance when he filled out acreage reports. He added that he had read of one farmer who was held for contempt for not signing a farm program form.

"What do you do?" he asked. "If you sign one form you get in trouble and if you don't sign you get in trouble."

"Confusion reigns supreme in many of the forms dealing with the farm program," Judge Briggie commented, and found Smith innocent.

Florida Goes To Polls Today

Stevenson, Kefauver End Bitter Campaign

By The Associated Press
Florida voters choose between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver for the Democratic presidential nomination today in a major test of the political strength of the two increasingly bitter rivals.

Both already were looking ahead to their final clash in the California primary election a week from today—a winner-take-all contest involving 68 votes in the national convention.

In Missouri, the Democratic State Convention gave enthusiastic endorsement to Sen. Stuart Symington—regarded by many as having a good chance for the Democratic nomination in case of a national convention deadlock between Kefauver and Stevenson.

In Columbus, Ohio, Gov. Frank J. Lausche said he would permit his name to be placed in nomination at the Democratic convention. Both Symington and Lausche have said they would not refuse the nomination.

In today's Florida voting, President Eisenhower faces only nominal opposition on the Republican side of the primary. But supporters of Stevenson and Kefauver saw their race as a major hurdle.

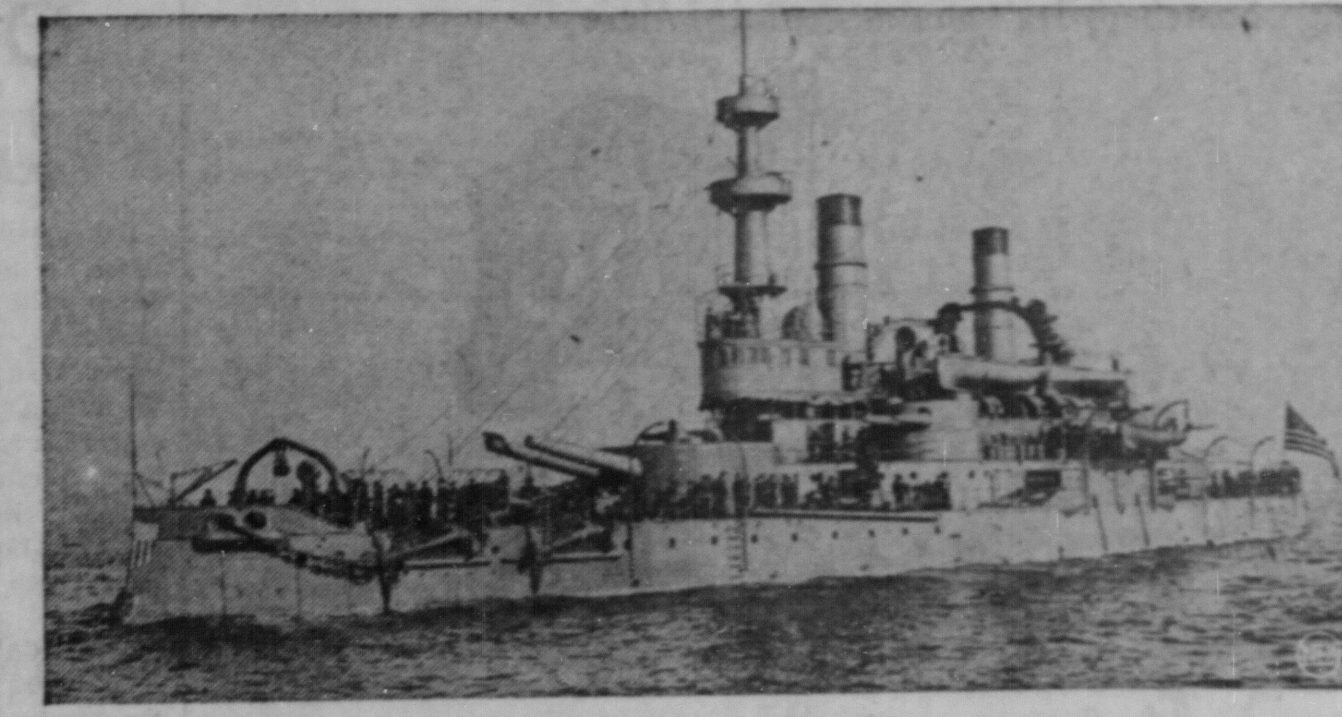

Florida's 28 Democratic convention votes will be apportioned on the basis of 12 convention votes to the biggest vote getter, plus two delegates, each with one full vote, for each of the eight congressional districts carried.

Voters can't switch parties in the primary voting in Florida, but many with Republican leanings are registered as Democrats in order to have some voice in the political affairs of the Democratic state.

There was speculation that many of these Republicans, plus Eisenhower Democrats, might vote for Kefauver in hopes of killing off Stevenson—whom most observers gave a slight edge.

Stevenson got last-minute endorsement from the Miami Daily News Monday. The News said that "as Florida votes . . . so California may vote . . . The outcome of these two primary elections may determine which of the two candidates is the stronger when the convention opens."

In California, backers of the two rivals traded blistering charges. A Stevenson supporter, Democratic National Committeeman Paul Ziffren, said, "Kefauver is desperate because he knows he is through and he is out to destroy

HER LAST PORT — One of the greatest of the U. S. Navy's historic ships is about to be cut up for scrap metal in Kwasaki, Japan. It is the famed, 60-year-old battleship Oregon, pride of the fleet in 1898 when she steamed 17,000 miles around Cape Horn in the Spanish-American War. She is shown above in 1919, after serving as the flagship of the Pacific fleet in World War I. The Oregon was an ammunition transport in World War II, after which her usefulness was ended.

Stevenson even if that won't help Kefauver."

Kefauver's California manager Thomas Carrell said, "Chicago boys have poured money in here and are trying to take over California." Stevenson is a former governor of Illinois.

The California fight appeared likely to be a bitter one, revolving principally around the issues of civil rights and social welfare. Stevenson already has begun the windup week of campaigning. Kefauver arranged to return to California after a last-minute tour of the Miami area Monday.

The Missouri convention endorsing Symington gave him what was regarded as far strong backing than the ordinary "favorite son" designation.

The convention adopted a resolution saying the state's 38 convention votes would continue to be cast for Symington until a majority of the delegates determines he is no longer available for nomination, or until he releases it.

In another primary election today, Kentucky voters chose their U. S. Senate and congressional nominees. The Democratic primary offered a sharp factional fight.

Backers of incumbent Sen. Clements were opposed by Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler and his forces, who are supporting former Rep. Joe B. Bates in the race for Clements' Senate seat.

The winner of the Clements-Bates fight will oppose one of three Republicans seeking the Senate nomination — Thurston Morton, former assistant secretary of state; Julian Golden; and Granville Thomas.

Neither Thomas nor a third Democratic contender in the Senate race, the Rev. James Delk, was considered a serious contender.

In North Dakota, Republicans wound up a convention singing the praises of Eisenhower and his administration. The 14 delegates and 14 alternates to the GOP National Convention are not formally instructed but there was no doubt they were in the Eisenhower corner.

Colorado elected its first two delegates to the convention Monday. Both said they are for Eisenhower and whoever he wants as a running mate. The President already has more than enough delegates to assure renomination at the first ballot.

DROWNS SWIMMING RIVER

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 12-year-old boy was drowned last night while trying to swim across the Chagrin River. He was William Gau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Gau of Eastlake.

The river is about 150 feet wide where the drowning occurred. Another swimmer recovered the boy's body while Eastlake firemen were dragging the river.

Fast Senate Approval Seen For Seaton As Interior Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Swift Senate confirmation appeared assured today for Fred A. Seaton to be secretary of the interior in President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Seaton, a 46-year-old Nebraska newspaper and radio executive, has been on the White House staff as deputy assistant to Eisenhower in charge of administrative affairs.

His selection for the Cabinet post, announced by the White House late Monday, occasioned some surprise. Fourteen Western Republican senators had publicly backed Undersecretary of the Interior Clarence A. Davis to succeed Douglas McKay. McKay resigned April 15 to run for the Senate against Sen. Morse (D-Ore).

Morse's colleague Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) contended that Eisenhower had "repudiated the policies of ex-Secretary McKay" by going outside "the discredited Interior Department to obtain a new head."

At Portland, McKay said: "Fred Seaton has earned the full confidence of the President as a valued member of the White House staff. He is already intimately familiar with the objectives and policies of the administration and can continue these policies in the Department of the Interior without interruption. He has my congratulations and best wishes."

Seaton, who described his appointment as a surprise, said he favors what Eisenhower terms a partnership policy under which local, private and public interests join with the federal government in hydroelectric power projects.

Asked specifically if he intends to carry on McKay's policies in the Interior Department, Seaton replied:

"I can't speak specifically to that. But, so far as the Eisenhower power policy and water policy are concerned, I plan to carry them on. That includes partnership — I think it makes sense and progress."

Many Democrats have criticized administration power policies as being unduly favorable to private utilities.

Chairman Murray (D-Mont) of the Interior Committee, which will pass upon the appointment, lauded Seaton as "a fine, fair gentleman" and said he sees no present need to hold hearings on the nomination.

Seaton served in the Senate by appointment for about a year in 1951-52. He did not seek election.

The Egg And The Engineer

James W. Shocknessy, chairman of Ohio Turnpike Commission, wants it known there was no delay in asking for a financial decision on a north-south turnpike after the engineering reports had been turned over to the commission.

This is in answer to implied criticism of the Turnpike Commission in a statement by Gov. Lausche urging prompt action and in comment by this newspaper and others on the governor's desire for prompt action.

The appearance of delay, if any, was caused first by the time consumed in engineering studies of Ohio's proposed Turnpike No. 2 and when a 10-day delay by the Ohio Highway Commission in relaying the result to the Turnpike Commission, Mr. Shocknessy explains.

Nothing can be done any more until the engineers are through working. Everything depends on them, and the nature of what they are expected to do precludes haste. They are paid to be thorough, not hasty.

Even if they wanted to go faster, engineering is like hatching eggs. You can't speed it up for the convenience of those waiting for chickens, which is why everybody agrees that the United States must have more and more engineers—so more projects can be hatched out.

Emotional Surge

John Landy, the Australian runner-philosopher who has clinched his popularity in this country by being humble about his ability, talked frankly to reporters the other day about what it takes to run a mile in less than four minutes.

It is not a great physical feat, he explained. It is something that can be done again and again, once it has been done once. There are six or seven men capable of running a mile in 3:55, in Landy's opinion. One is Jim Bailey, the Australian who beat Landy when the two of them raced for the first time.

Bailey did not know he could beat Landy. He never had run a mile that fast. Yet, he discovered to his own surprise that he, too, could run a mile in less than four minutes when he really wanted to. That, in Landy's view, is the secret.

The difference between men who can do the seemingly impossible and the merely difficult is an emotional surge that carries them beyond their ordinary limits.

It explains what happens when athletes "play over their heads." They go beyond ordinary limits thanks to a state of mind that makes the impossible become possible.

Back Home To Work

The Ohio Valley boom is the subject of one of Fortune Magazine's competent reports in the issue published this week. One detail of the report will be given special attention by people who have been wondering about the boom's effect on other localities.

In addition to land, coal and water, the prime elements in the Ohio Valley's industrial development, is manpower as an added attraction. Much of it is in a labor pool of farm people who never worked in industry. But much of it is going to be drawn from Valley natives who moved north to Akron, Toledo and Detroit and are coming home.

Fortune estimates that the Ohio Valley boom has attracted seven and a-half billion dollars of new industrial investment since 1950 and this is only the beginning. When it has gone a little further, the region will be a vast magnet for manpower as well as capital.

With Lake Erie and the St. Lawrence Seaway at the north and the Ohio Valley on the south, Ohio will be the industrial pacemaker for the nation.

An Eight-Jet Wrangle

There isn't an Air Force general, a member of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, a high-ranking congressional committeeman, or any of the rest of us, as far as that is concerned, who wouldn't jump at a chance to see the Soviet Union put on its military air show next June 24.

This is equally true of the Russians, who would jump at a chance to make a similar inspection of U. S. airpower, if this country made a practice of staging an air show. But in a matter of such extreme delicacy as this it isn't possible to write a letter inviting yourself to the other fellow's party.

An invitation must be wangled somehow. Apparently what is happening between Washington and Moscow in connection with the June 28 show is an eight-jet wrangle, with swept-back wings, a couple million pounds of thrust, a needle nose and a cruising speed of March 8.

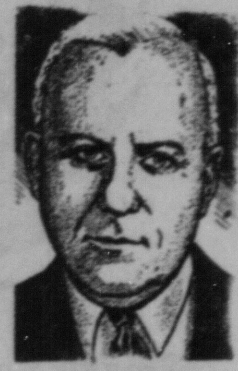

We predict it will work out fine. Maybe it won't be as good as mutual aerial inspection, but a general with his feet on the ground and his eyes lifted to the skies will see everything he needs to see—in Moscow on June 28 and later on in Washington and environs when the Russians return the visit.

Topsy-Turvy Politics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Democrats 'Incriminating' Each Other

Everything seems topsy-turvy in national politics today. The slogans and the crusades don't seem to be working out—at least not for the Democrats.

Time was when what was "good for the country" was good for General Motors.

But now, since the Federal Reserve Board has put some on bank credit, the officials of General Motors are complaining that sales in small business as well as big business are being hurt.

Time was when a lawyer named Murray Chotiner of California—campaign manager at different times for Messrs. Nixon, Knowland, and Warren, respectively—was projected into the headlines by Democratic critics in the Senate on the ground that once he had become associated with politics as a manager of some kind, he must presumably cease thereafter between campaigns to practice his profession.

Now Sen. Estes Kefauver takes his own opponent, Adlai Stevenson, to task for what the latter did in practicing his profession as a lawyer between campaigns.

MR. KEFAUVER was discussing, in one of his Florida speeches, the danger of big business gobbling up little business. He said:

"It is a remarkable thing to me that Mr. Stevenson is so strangely silent on this important subject. Mr. Stevenson's silence could hardly be due to his unfamiliarity with the subject. Just last year he was employed as a lawyer by the Radio Corporation of America to argue its case in the Supreme Court of the United States, against an antitrust action brought by the United States."

Mr. Kefauver was quick to add that he did not mean "to criticize a lawyer for representing any side in a lawsuit." This is quite a concession for any Democratic senator to make today after the way various Democratic senators sought recently to pillory Mr. Chotiner for representing clients in criminal cases.

SEN. KEFAUVER, however, goes on to soothe the "lawyer vote" as he says:

"But Mr. Stevenson's case was somewhat different. At the time he accepted the RCA retainer he was titular head of the democratic party and what he said and did might well have been regarded as reflecting the views of the party and the direction in which it was going."

"Since Mr. Stevenson has placed himself and the party in a dubious position, I would have expected him to have clarified his opinion and his purposes in the matter of antitrust laws and their enforcement. His silence has been one of the curious facts of this campaign."

Maybe the silence was due to the small fact—as Mr. Stevenson himself now points out—that it wasn't an antitrust suit at all, but a private lawsuit between the RCA and the Zenith Radio Company.

As for "silence" by Mr. Stevenson on various things political, it isn't, of course, a bit more curious than Mr. Kefauver's reluctance to speak out about another of his opponents—Gov. Harriman—who, because he is a multimillionaire, might be thought to be ineligible for the presidential nomination in a party dedicated to the proposition that big business is bad and the possession of millions of dollars of private wealth is even worse.

THERE ARE a lot of more or less "titular" things about Mr. Harriman's career. He is, for instance, the "titular" head of his party in New York State today, though some say Sen. Lehman is the real boss. Mr. Harriman is believed to be the "titular head" still of a big railroad, having inherited a fortune from his father—the famous railroad king. The New York governor was for many years, too, the "titular" head of a big banking house in Wall Street. But he is reported lately to have said something to this effect to his friends:

"Big business is bad. I know about its iniquities from the inside. Let me at 'em. What's good for Wall Street isn't good for the country."

It's Mr. Kefauver's implied criticism, however, of the law practice of defeated candidates in the Democratic party that has caused an arching of eyebrows of Capitol Hill.

IF EVERY candidate is to be barred from taking lawyers' fees from big corporations lest this conflict with his faithful responsibilities as "titular" head of the Democratic party in his home state or congressional district, then some men who have been re-elected recently to Congress after an interval of defeat, are going to be embarrassed and some of them, perhaps, ought not to attempt to avenge their defeat next autumn either, because they might possibly have to vote on legislation affecting some of their previous clients.

It's a topsyturvy world in politics nowadays. There are plenty of words spoken on the stump, but so far as any thorough presentation of basic issues is concerned, the campaign is still nebulous—or perhaps, only "titular."

We'll Finish Strong

In the next few decades, according to a prediction made by California Institute of Technology, the mysteries about the behavior of human beings will be cleared up.

This will make humans as easy to handle as any other performing animals. As psychiatrists learn to uncross our crossed wires, they will make it possible for us to exceed the greatest ambitions of all the dreamers who have tried "to improve the breed."

Millions of us who otherwise would founder in mediocrity and frustration will be turned into geniuses who will have the great satisfaction of knowing we made the world spin faster by pushing it in the right place at the right time.

This is something that is going to happen in the next few decades as the result of what Cal Tech refers to as giant strides about to be made in the 'behavioral sciences.' It won't do those of us now living any good, unfortunately.

It will be our lot to keep on floundering in mediocrity and frustration.

We shall continue to put a pox on everything we do not understand. Unless we can see how a buck is going to spring into our pocket if we say yes, we shall not only say no but shall bleed and die in blind opposition.

The hand that feeds us will keep right on being bitten to the bone because of our guilt complex about accepting handouts. We shall continue to hate philanthropists and to slander them to the best of our ability. Anyone who is decent to us out of the goodness of his heart can count on arousing our blackest suspicions of his motives.

There will be no abatement in our ageless practice of character assassination carried on at the expense of everybody unlucky enough to come to our attention. Woe be to individualists, to eccentrics, to the fellow who gets to be boss and to anyone who aspires to be a public leader. We shall trample them in the mud if we can.

We shall continue to fight the good fight against knowledge. We shall greet with mistrust anyone who puts on educational airs or pretends to know more than can be acquired by keeping his ear cocked, his eye peeled, his nose pointed into the wind and his lips pursed. We shall spurn all competent advice, unless we have lost the power of choice, as when the croaker tells us to stay in bed after a heart attack.

We shall assert our independence by giving the back of our hand to anything we were not permitted to call our own idea.

We shall be against everything proposed by our opponents, even when it happens to be a good idea.

We shall continue to muffle chances to make the most of our opportunities. We shall refuse to give anyone else the benefit of a doubt, we shall deny that charity begins at home, refuse to see beyond the ends of our noses and decline to practice the Golden Rule.

In view of these shortcomings and thousands of others equally disheartening, it is a wonder we ever have flourished to a point where it seems likely we may become as tractable as other animals, once the behavioral scientists have put in another generation's work on our cussedness.

But our number is up. There are only a few more decades for us to be cussed in before the scientists will know how to take it out of us before we get set in our ways.

One will get you ten that we, outside ourselves coming down the stretch toward Utopia. We'll finish strong if it kills us!

Somebody Isn't an Amateur Any More

Fact And Fancy

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

We have read numerous explanations as to why the Russians claim to be disbanding 1,200,000 troops. Some of the explanations are exceedingly complicated, involving perhaps a Freudian explanation of Khrushchev's mind, to say nothing of the minds of Marshals Bulganin and Zhukov. Why not try to guess at a simple explanation, one that comes close to what could be the truth because it might also be the truth here, namely, that footsoldiers, except as policemen, have been made obsolete by the new weapons, and that the Russians are trying to save some money by getting rid of expensive but obsolete means of warfare?

SURELY, IN TERMS of logic, this is as probable an explanation as the various ones that come out of Washington. The government of the United States still maintains about 1,300,000 footsoldiers despite the inventions of the bombs and missiles which make a foot-soldier as useless as the horse-soldier became after the tank was made available.

All the arguments that are now being used to continue having an enormous and costly army of foot-soldiers were used to preserve the horse-soldier, the principal one being:

"Who ever heard of an army without horses?" To this the answer could be that Hannibal used elephants and Caesar never heard of an airplane nor did Napoleon know that one bomb from an airplane could wipe out an entire city and so contaminate the remains that nothing in it could live and no army could occupy it.

FROM THAT standpoint, would it not be logical for the Russian President, looking around for some place to cut expenses, to conclude that as they have to spend a lot of money on bombs and guided missiles, they might just as well cut out most of the obsolete parts of their military forces, those parts which were valuable prior to the development of the unconventional weapons of war which will surely be used in the next war, if one takes place? And if no war takes place, what good are foot-soldiers except to provide frightening statistics and parades on occasions?

One of the advantages that the Russians have over us is that their government is unified and if something needs to be done, they do not have to squabble in public on the subject.

For instance, we have at least two active policy-making departments that conduct foreign policy: One is the State Department headed by John Foster Dulles; the other is an agency without explicit description headed by Harold Stassen. Whenever the opportunity offers itself, Mr. Stassen contradicts Mr. Dulles which makes everything clear to nobody.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower has confidence in both men and in their contradictions which he apparently understands. At any rate, although Mr. Stassen was, in effect, voted out of office by Congress abolishing his job, the President created a new one for him which Mr. Stassen fills by going about looking for peace and disarmament, but he has not suggested ed that the taxpayers' money be saved by abolishing obsolete but expensive instruments of war. He has been a very firm advocate of inspection from the air which Khrushchev described as silly in his angry conversations with the British Socialists whom he disdained as inferior Mensheviks and therefore spoke freely in their presence.

What he said was unpleasant and pointedly designed to indicate that those who believe that they can see what is happening in Yakutsk or Alma-Ata by flying over them need to study geography all over again, if they ever knew it. A tough guy is Khrushchev.

ONE OF THE CONCEPTS of the peace department of our government is that the only way to counter the new Russian international trade offensive is to increase foreign aid, about 60 per cent of nearly 5 billion dollars a year to go to our allies in NATO and SEATO and probably METO. The question then arises: Is NATO alive or dead? Has this device vitality or is it obsolete?

It was supposed to produce an enormous number of divisions, about 100 in Europe when it was founded in 1949. Precisely how many divisions does NATO control now, or how many can it count on against Soviet Russia?

So here again, we need some realistic thinking. We might even ask, who are our allies? And what a shock such a question could be if answered realistically.

Part of the Pageant

By TRUMAN TWILL

The "class trip" now is as commonplace among students in the United States as the "grand tour of the Continent" used to be for young Britons.

All eyes turn eastward to New York City when it's time for the great adventure. For four years, the class adviser has guarded the accumulating class treasury like a mother hen guarding a nest, with only one thing in mind.

Dozens of great and small projects to raise money have been undertaken, with varying degrees of success. But by hook or crook there has been enough buying power stashed away to underwrite an expedition to Cosmoopolis after all other bills were paid.

This pattern is now followed so widely that graduating classes can buy package tours that will account for every minute from the time they pour into special coaches until they straggle out again four or five days later, their energy and their money all gone—but with permanent and priceless memories.

It is the first train ride for most of them. And for many it may be the only train ride because they may never have another occasion to travel en masse.

The steel-nerved teachers who chaperone them and tolerate their practice of staying awake all night so they can test their ability to stay awake all the next day have been to New York so many times when they have earned their ten-year stripes they feel like commuters.

The philosophical conductors and brakemen and the tireless porters who preside over the bedlam that is riding with them have learned to think of "class trips" as just one more occupational hazard, like sudden stops and failure of the heating system.

They realize what it means to their passengers and to the people they waved goodbye to on all the small-town station platforms—this last joint adventure of classmates—this first leave-taking.

It has become part of the pageantry of America, and they are sure Norman Rockwell will do a cover for the Saturday Evening Post about it.

The Rockwell picture should show the new luggage and the boxes of food. It should show the harried faces of fathers and mothers and grandmothers and girl friends and boy friends who have waited for an hour-late train because there were four other "class trips" to be picked up first.

It should show the consternation of a porter facing a night of chaos, the relief on the face of the station agent, the professional competency of the chaperoning teacher and the assistant ringmaster, the varied expressions of the young adventurers . . . all the details.

Look, Norman, everybody knows you're busy. Just hand over a brush and the paint and we'll get the picture started. You can fill in the details later. You know what they are . . . the details of America . . . the kids, their parents, their hopes, fears and misgivings.

Such as arise from the fact many class trips would be made to Washington instead of New York, except for colored students who then would discover for the first time that what they were taught about equal rights has never been taken literally in the capital of their own country.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Freckles, Boxscores, Peace

Better global understandings and the cause of peace are to feel a sandlot influence. Into the group photo of powerful premiers, dictators, presidents, secretaries of state, warlords and generals steps a freckled kid. And he makes the most appealing figure in the bunch. The kid enters the scene with a ballbat in his hand and it could cramp Mars' style. He scampers across a sunny field to pull down a high one and the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse look to their bench for instructions.

AMERICA'S top schoolboy ballplayers, chosen from 18,000 kid teams playing in all parts of the country, are to travel to other nations as ambassadors of good will and it looks to this corner as if nothing the Voice of America says could eclipse "Henry, Skinny, poke one out of time in history when the uplift they gave to the lot," and "Slide, Sandy, slide!" in putting mankind in better humor. "Bring him across, Jimmy!" could ultimately be a better influence for world amity than "My government demands." . . . Secretary Dulles zooms across continents in a super plane and makes important speeches from many council chambers, but he can seem slow and ineffective compared to a sandy-headed boy trying to steel home on a squeeze play. Given equal breaks all around, we would trade Dulles and time for a good sandlot pitcher and a couple of 16-year-old long ball hitters.

IN THE FORM of the top envoys of the earth too many biggies stand with "one foot in the bucket," swing at the bad balls and try to steel second with the bases full. You see little of that among the sandlot emissaries. Speaker or Rogers Hornsby in a carload at a There isn't a secretary of state in the world who wouldn't inspire more general confidence appearing in a baseball suit, playing with the baseball spirit and letting his neck get a deeper lat. The United Nations weakest point is that rot a delegate faintly reminds anybody on earth of Ty Cobb, Honus Wagner, Babe Ruth or Christy Mathewson. There isn't a Tris public spirits is desperately needed.

WHAT GIVES YOU greater happiness and more confidence in the future, the United Nations in serious session or eighteen smallfry in a tight ball game in a corner lot? (Don't answer. It's a foolish question.) The diplomats had better keep an eye on this situation . . . These touring sandlot teams can bring a bear market in striped pants and high hats. Even Dag Hammarskjold would impress us as being more of a threat to dictators if he developed a good curve and went for the fences.

There is only one thing in the picture that disturbs us. The American Legion, which chooses the best kid players, put scholarship ahead of baseball skill, or at least even. This violates every tradition of baseball history. It has always been felt that on the ball fields a good pair of hands and speed on the bases eclipsed marks in history and English. Still, we are not alarmed. Our guess is that the boy hits .350 and is a hawk in the outfield will be in the lineup even if he has flunked spelling.

THE SHERATON CHAIN has bought 22 more hotels and is now close to Hilton. . . . It's a bed-to-bed finish.

Ex-Senator Loring Black died the other day and we remembered that when we landed in the big city as a green kid, he introduced us to golf, inviting us to Wheatly Hills where we embarrassed him by showing up in what we thought proper golf attire, store pants, sneakers and a stiff straw hat.

Maybe the huge Diesels of today stir a boy's imagination but we doubt it. . . . There was something human and comforting in the old steam whistle; the ear-slitting blast of the modern locomotive seems straight out of the brute world.

Purpose of the sale is to raise funds for the sesqui project.

Leetonia Man Is Married In Canada
LEETONIA — Miss Mary Levisky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Levisky of Ottawa, Ontario, Canada and Joseph Guido, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Guido of Leetonia exchanged marriage vows Saturday, May 19 in St. Bridgetts Church in Ottawa.

Rev. John Whalen officiated at the double ring ceremony. The candlelit altar was decorated with ferns and vases of assorted flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a slipper length gown of white chantilly lace and nylon tulle, with a fitted bodice with a full hoop skirt with short train and long pointed sleeves with scalloped neckline of seeded pearls. Her illusion veil was encircled with matching lace and seeded pearls, and it was held in place with a cap of seeded pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of roses and lily of the valley.

Mrs. William Gibson, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, and was attired in blue crystal-ette, styled with boat neckline and long torso full ballerina length skirt with matching accessories and carried a cascade of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids Doreen Parks, Shirley Smith, Marlene Zidichouski, and Connie Tudan were identically dressed in pastel blue crystal-ette with matching accessories and carried cascades of pink carnations.

Pamela Gibson, niece of the groom, was flower girl, who wore pastel blue dress identical to the bridesmaids and carried a cascade of pink carnations.

Frances Perry served as best man while Orlando Salvino, cousin of the groom, Frank Buffone, Mike Zoppa, and George Levisky, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The bride's mother was attired in pink crepe with white and navy accessories. The groom's mother wore navy lace with pink and navy accessories and both wore rose corsages.

The dinner and reception for 300 guests was held in Romanok Hall at Hull, Quebec, Canada. The newly weds are honeymooning throughout western Canada.

A reception was held at the Eagles Hall in Leetonia Saturday, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Guido with 150 guests present.

2 Branches Merge; Women Admitted To Ministry

Presbyterians Urged To Wider Program Of Evangelism In U. S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 168th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. today was urged to carry on a wider program of evangelism at the grass roots level.

The church's National Commission on Evangelism, reporting on the sixth day of the assembly's seven-day meeting, said, "There has been a distinct change in the religious climate in the last 10 years."

"Church membership and church attendance have increased," the commission said. "There is a willingness to listen, if not necessarily to respond, to the message of the Christian church."

Along with this "heightened religious interest," continued the commission, there has come a return to evangelism.

"Evangelism is being restored to the heart of the church and, while in some quarters grave doubts are held as to its legitimacy and effectiveness, the tempo of our times and the dilemma of the church are forcing a reconsideration of the nature of evangelism and its place in the life of the church. There is still much apathy but the old hostility has almost disappeared."

The assembly passed two major milestones Monday — approval of a merger with the United Presbyterian Church and the admitting of women to the ministry.

The merger plan was adopted by unanimous voice vote after some opposition over the name choice.

The special negotiating committee had selected the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. The Rev. Howard W. Edgar, Punxsutawney, Pa., proposed a substitute motion that would have sent the merger plan back to committee to find a new name.

The substitute motion was rejected, also by voice vote—but not a unanimous one. Debate on the issue then was ended and the 1,000 delegates gave the merger their undivided approval.

The United Presbyterian

Church's General Assembly will vote on the union next month with the presbyteries of both churches also required to pass on it. The merged group would have approximately three million members, all but 275,000 from the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

Not involved in the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. a Southern branch, which rejected a three-way merger last year.

There was no floor vote on the question of admitting women to the Presbyterian Ministry. The Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures (petitions) merely announced that a sufficient number of presbyteries had approved a change in the church's bylaws. The vote by presbyteries was 205 to 35, with approval by 129 required.

The difference between a great picture and a mediocre picture is frequently in its composition.

To begin with, select a taking position that excludes extraneous objects. Avoid such items as telephone poles or wires in a pastoral scene. Don't let vast panoramic scenes mislead you. They look pretty, but often photograph flat.

After you've selected your position, use your view finder as a picture frame for the snapshot you're taking, and move the camera about to compose the picture elements into a pleasing arrangement. Keep the horizon from cutting squarely across the middle. Don't place the most important part of the scene in dead center — about one-third from one edge and one-third from the bottom or top is best.

A dirt road, or path, or winding stream can help center interest, if it enters a picture near a corner. Avoid symmetrical placement of large masses.

Follow these fundamentals, adding others as you go along, and you'll turn into a real artist with your camera.

Ohio's Hard Liquor Freeze Ends Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's freeze of hard liquor permits apparently ends at midnight tonight. Liquor Director William C. Bryant says.

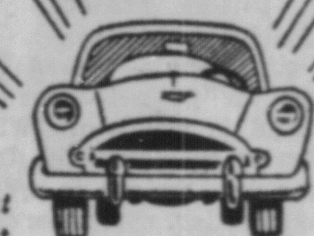

His department's modified freeze, which was to have gone into effect last midnight, was put off indefinitely when 40 carry-out permit holders appealed from the regulation in Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

The suit means that the freeze on beer, wine and carryout permits will remain—at least temporarily. Virtually unlimited issuance of such permits would have been allowed under the modified freeze regulation.

Under the modified freeze, the director said, some 3,000 new hard liquor permits might have been issued. Without it, he estimated, as many as 6,000 could be added to the 8,000 now in existence.

The Ohio Supreme Court recently knocked out the original 1949 freeze, saying that permit quotas failed to allow for population changes.

351 Attend OES Grand Inspection Held Friday

Salem Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, held its grand inspection Friday night at the Masonic Temple with 351 in attendance. Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Marjorie F. Bean of Newcomerstown was inspecting officer.

Preceding the inspection, a dinner was held in the dining room. The tables were decorated with blue and silver. Candles lighted the tables and a large bouquet of tulips was arranged at the front of the room. Mrs. C. H. Waldron was in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Rollin G. Beck and Mrs. Roy O. Merrell headed the dinner committee. The dinner was served by the Masons. Mrs. John Kehler and Mrs. Frank S. Ullom had charge of the dining room. They were assisted by Mrs. Russell Moore and Mrs. Bruce Cox.

Mrs. Myron Riegel of Salem Chapter, deputy grand matron of District 13, Grand Chapter of Ohio, introduced the worthy grand matron and presented her with an honorary membership in the Salem Chapter.

Other grand officers present were: Grand chaplain, Mrs. Esther D. Payne of Andover; grand marshal, Miss Omah Gaston of Guyville; grand electa, Mrs. Dorothy E. Gillis of Toronto; grand warder, Mrs. Dorothy Weich of Findlay.

Visiting deputy grand matrons from other districts were: District 1, Mrs. Janice Held of Burton; District 2, Mrs. Dorothy Edwards of Stow; District 10, Mrs. Mildred Sipes of Gallion; District 14, Mrs. Helen Curry of Bridgeport; District 25, Mrs. Jeannette Ward of Marietta.

Grand representatives present were: Mrs. Marjorie Randles of Newcomerstown representing Florida; Mrs. Maxine Thompson of Freeport, representing Idaho; Mrs. Martha McBeth of Plymouth, representing Iowa; Mrs. Betty Herrington of Augusta Chapter, representing New Brunswick; Mrs. Osa Johnson Day of Portsmouth, representing Massachusetts; Mrs. Adela Weikart of Leetonia Chapter, representing Pennsylvania; Mrs. Myrtle Milbaugh of Brookfield, representing Wyoming.

Visiting worthy matrons, worthy patrons and past matrons and past patrons of Salem Chapter also were introduced. Others introduced were Merle Messenheimer, Knight of the York Cross of Honor, McFadden Lodge, Alliance and grand chapter committee members, Mrs. Lester Kettering of Cantos and Mrs. William Negus of Colerain; and Mrs. Bean's husband, Russell Bean.

Friendship Night will be observed at the next regular meeting of Salem Chapter Monday evening, June 4, when Carroll Chapter of Carrollton will be entertained. A program is planned. Members are asked to pick up their brooms that evening.

An invitation was received from Augusta Chapter to attend a reception at Augusta High School auditorium Saturday at 8 p.m. The reception will honor Mrs. Betty Herrington, grand representative of New Brunswick, and Robert Longworth, deputy grand master of District 24, F. & A.M., Grand Lodge of Ohio.

Mrs. Bean will be inspecting officer at the following inspections for which invitations have been received:

Friday, Alliance Chapter, dinner, 6 p.m., meeting, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, Cypress Chapter of Strasburg, (home chapter of Walter Jeandrevin, grand sentinel; dinner, 6 p.m., meeting, 8 p.m.)

June 16, Orrville Chapter (home chapter of grand patron, Ward Ramsayer), in Senior High School building, dinner at 6 p.m., meeting at 8 p.m.

Esther Chapter, Minerva, dinner 5:30 p.m. at the temple and the meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the grade school auditorium.

The sunshine collection was donated to the Eastern Star Home. A solo, "The Lord's Prayer," was sung by Mrs. Rolin Herron. She was accompanied by Mrs. Howard Firestone at the organ.

The meeting was concluded and a social hour was held in the dining room. Mrs. Charles Senevel and her committee arranged the affair. Mrs. Vance R. McBane and Mrs. Burt Leeper presided at the refreshment table.

Area Pythian Sisters Hold Memorial Service

The Pythian Sisters of the Oakleaf Temple, Greenford, met Tuesday evening with 16 members present. Most Excellent Chief Emma Jean Wilson had charge of the business meeting. Flag Day will be observed at the next meeting, June 12.

The charter was draped for a 30-day period for Past Grand Chief Maude Foster, and a memorial service was held for 12 departed Sisters.

The birthday of Delores Baird was celebrated. A tray lunch was served by the social committee, Ella and Lucille Coy and Eileen Hahn.

Organ Recital Set In Baptist Church

Marshall Bailey will present several of his pupils in a recital next Tuesday evening at 8 in the First Baptist Church. The event will be open to the public.

Both piano and organ students will play. First through fifth and seventh piano grades will be represented, while first and second organ grades will be included. Pupils presenting the program will be from Salem, Leetonia, Lisbon, Winona and Greenford.

HONORED AT PARTY

Miss Carolyn Jean Witmer, who was graduated Friday evening from Greenford High School, was honored at a party Saturday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Witmer of RD 5, Salem.

Thirty-six friends and relatives from Salem, Alliance, Leetonia and Greenford were guests. The evening was spent informally. The honoree received many gifts. The hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. John Harbin, served a tray lunch. Favors, in keeping with the class colors, were blue mint cups and miniature diplomas tied with white ribbons inscribed 1956.

Right now we have more toddlers than ever before. That's because of two successive record-breaking birth years (1954, 4, 076,000 — 1955, 4, 091,000).

We are honoring our children this month with Child Health Day, National Baby Week and general emphasis on child health and welfare.

Incidentally, girl babies born now in the United States will have a longer average life than boys.

In 1953, girls could look forward to 72.1 years; boys to 66.1. In 1900, baby girls could expect only 48.3 years and boys 46.3 years. This longer life span is credited to tremendous strides in medicine and public health and naturally to increased knowledge of good nutrition.

As to toddlers, they are sociable little folks. They like to do things with somebody. Breathes there a Mother who hasn't heard, "Please may I have a party?"

Simple table manners can be practiced at a tea party, if adult supervision is tactful. The little hostess learns to serve her guest, offers food to her doll, gradually manages to spoon her own food without sloshing or shoveling. As for food, serve milk or cocoa, wafers, and colorful junior fruits molded in gelatin or as a topping for molded gelatin.

Fruit Dessert Fluff
Combine 1 cup (two 4½-ounce containers) junior fruit dessert with 2 tablespoons sugar, few drops almond extract, and ¼ cup finely crushed vanilla wafers or zwieback crumbs. Whip 2 egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold into fruit mixture, spoon into serving glasses.

Variation: Adult Dessert: Whip 1-3 cup heavy cream or chilled evaporated milk and substitute for egg whites. Make this dessert with other ready-to-use junior foods, such as apricot-applesauce.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hendershot recently visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Miller of North Canton and Mrs. Lawrence Hendershot, Canton.

Mail Flows In For Girl Who Wrote Dead Mother

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Postmaster H. Wayne Parker still hasn't located "Mickey," who wrote a touching letter to "Mommy, care of God, Heaven," but stacks of mail and at least one $25 check are waiting.

Mickey's unstamped letter found its way to Parker's desk May 17. News reports of the letter touched off a flood of answering mail. A check came for "Mickey" Monday from a banker in Elmore City, Okla., who said: "This little girl must not lose her faith."

"Mickey's letter bore no return address or last name. The letter said: 'Dear Mommy, I miss you very much since you went to live with God. I hope you're happy. I'm lonesome without you and Daddy since you have gone away. Please tell God to help me be good so I can come to heaven by you. Love, your baby girl, Mickey.'"

Accidental Shot Grazes Cheek Of Mary Pickford

HOLLYWOOD — Mary Pickford, sweetheart of the silent screen, has disclosed that a bullet grazed her head when a pistol was accidentally discharged on her estate.

The former actress made light of an incident she said took place Saturday night as she and her husband, producer Buddy Rogers, were returning home with Marion Davies and the latter's husband, Capt. Horace Brown.

Miss Pickford said Monday that Brown, formerly of the Merchant Marine, was showing his pistol to Rogers when he slipped in a spot of oil in the driveway.

The gun discharged, she reported, and the bullet ricocheted from the driveway to her forehead. Dr. Eliot Corday said he treated Miss Pickford for a slight abrasion.

Two Boys On Tractor Cause Heavy Damage

REVERE, Mass. — Two boys, ages 7 and 12, stepped into a 10-ton tractor at a construction job after the workers had gone home.

Seconds after they pressed down the accelerator a garage, a fence, a second garage and a 1955 automobile were demolished.

The boys, whose names police withheld, were not injured.

4,200 Workers End Pipe Plant Strike

DENNISON, Ohio — Some 4,200 workers were returning to their jobs at sewer pipe plants in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana today following the end of a 56-day strike.

Clyde Myers, business agent of the United Brick and Clay Workers union, said 17 of the 26 union locals voted Monday to accept a new two-year contract. He added that workers in the nine locals rejecting the pact would return to work today with those approving it.

The contract provides for wage increases of eight cents an hour for each of the two years. It also calls for four paid holidays this year with two more next year; a third week of vacation for workers with 15 years' seniority, and continuation of a $25 year-end bonus.

Present wage scales were not announced.

The union had sought a wage increase of 27 cents an hour, six paid holidays a year and three weeks vacation. Employers had held out for a three-year contract.

Sneaky Companion Costs Man 3 Days of His Life

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio — If you have an urge to go "on the town," pick your companions well. A sneaky one cost Gilbert A. Charles 34, three days out of his life.

Charles was arrested January 5 after a minor auto accident. He admitted he was drunk and, since he was in the driver's seat, also conceded he had been driving. Next day in court, he pleaded guilty of drunk driving, paid a $200 fine, gave up his driver's license for a year and spent three days in jail.

But today, Charles has his money and his driver's license back.

Municipal Judge Lowell C. Thompson told Charles: "We're sorry, but we can't give you back your three days."

Charles found out just the other day that he hadn't been driving. He found some witnesses who saw Charles' unidentified companion pull Charles into the driver's seat after the crash, then take off on foot.

Four Youths Penalized On Traffic Charges

LISBON — In Juvenile Court on Monday, Judge Louis Tobin fined four juveniles a total of $65 and suspended one youth's driver's license for 30 days.

A 15-year-old Wellsville boy was fined $25 for driving without a license.

A 16-year-old Salem boy paid a fine of $25 for passing at crest of hill, and was prohibited from driving after 6 p.m. in the evening.

A 17-year-old Columbiana boy paid a fine of $10 for driving without a license, and a 15-year-old Leetonia youth had his temporary license suspended for 30 days for driving without a licensed driver beside him.

Delegates from all over the nation will breakfast with Eisenhower Thursday and with Vice President Nixon Friday.

Knights Of Columbus Elect State Officers

DAYTON, Ohio — State officers were reelected Monday in the closing session of the Ohio Knights of Columbus' three-day conference. They included Thomas M. Doud, Kenton, warden, and Leo A. Stark, Chillicothe, advocate.

Present state membership of 59,600 is a new record, it was announced.

Hearing Set For Boy Who Killed Mother

AKRON, Ohio — A hearing for a 16-year-old boy who told police he shot and killed his mother accidentally will be held early next week before Juvenile Judge Russell Thomas.

John Kenneth Frank was released from the Summit County detention home Monday so he could attend the funeral of his mother in Chicago Thursday.

He told police he was trying to stop a quarrel between his parents when he accidentally discharged a .22 caliber foreign-made automatic pistol. The bullet struck Mrs. Anna E. Frank, 43, in the heart.

The shooting occurred at the Frank home early Sunday after the boy and his parents had attended a dance Saturday night at the Akron Naval Air Station. John said the quarrel between his mother and step-father, Phillip R. Frank, started at the dance. The elder Frank is a chief aviation mechanic stationed at the air base.

Police Capt. Carroll Cutright, who questioned the boy Monday, said, "everything in the case points to accidental shooting." Assistant Summit County Prosecutor James Barbutto said the boy would return here after the funeral for the hearing before Thomas.

Wounded Prison Farm Guard In Good Condition

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A London Prison Farm guard, stabbed while trying to prevent an escape, is in "good" condition today, a Mount Carmel Hospital aide said.

The guard, Roy Gordon, 35, of Leesburg, received knife wounds in the hands and right side Sunday night while trying to prevent the escape of inmate James Esson, a convicted murderer, Supt. R. B. Eckle said.

One of two inmates who walked away about the same time as Esson's escape was arrested in Wilmington Monday. Police identified him as Joseph Ferrall, 46.

John O. Meyers, 38, the other walkaway, and Esson are still at large.

Eckle said Esson, serving a life term for the 1948 robbery slaying of a Cuyahoga County man, tried to take a truck with which Gordon was using to patrol the grounds. When Gordon resisted, he was stabbed, Eckle said.

Laws Setting Up Fee System Are Hunted

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A search by the Franklin County prosecutor has failed to turn up statutes authorizing the collection of several types of county fees.

Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine said last night, however, that the investigation by his office is "far from complete."

Laws giving Franklin County the right to collect an estimated two million dollars in building inspection fees over the past 20 years are the particular object of the search, Devine said.

But there is also a question about the legality of fees collected for inspection of septic tanks and filing of rezoning applications, the prosecutor said.

"We must determine whether or not there is statutory authority for the county government to levy such fees," he added.

Devine indicated that other counties may have a similar problem.

10 Building Permits Are Issued Here

New construction in Salem last week totaled an estimated $7,490, according to 10 building permits issued by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer. Construction was confined to remodeling and construction of new garages.

Permits issued were: Elwood Hammell, $800 for a frame garage at 1022 Homewood Ave.; Warren H. Baird, $500 for a frame garage and patio at 618 E. 8th St.; Hazel Probert, $1,000 for a double garage at 845 Summit St.; Wayne Sobotka, $600 for a single garage at 1768 Southeast Blvd.; and Perry Huffman, $840 for residing a home at 281 Vine St.

Other permits issued were: Earl Miller, $1,580 for residing at 1074 Cleveland Ave.; Dan Schmidt, $190 for a new roof at 361 N. Madison Ave.; W. J. Schmidt, $980 for residing at 1043 E. 6th St.; Fred Glass, $1,000 for an addition at 336 W. 9th St.; and Mrs. Donald Aubill, $300 for an addition to a garage at 1270 E. 9th St.

Tracy Brings Back Check For Ohio Roads

NEW YORK — Ohio's treasurer, Roger W. Tracy, was on his way home today with a check for $49,066,732 to pay for some of the new roads the Buckeye state is building this year.

The check was handed Tracy after a ceremony witnessed by Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. It came from a 50-million-dollar issue of Ohio's major thoroughfare construction bonds sold at competitive bidding recently.

State Mobile Unit Gives 1,178 X-rays

LISBON — The state mobile X-ray unit has raved a total of 1,178 persons during the first four days it has visited Columbiana County.

Friday at West Local School, 89 were X-rayed, and in the evening at Mile Branch grange, 125 received X-rays. Monday the unit visited Salineville High School, and today, returned to Lisbon where it is stationed in front of the courthouse.

Father Held For Slaying Of Son

CINCINNATI — Police say a two-day-old quarrel between a father and his son over use of an automobile they owned jointly resulted last night in the fatal shooting of the son.

Officers said Charles Miller Jr., 23, was shot to death as he scuffled with his father, Charles Sr., 49, over a gun which the father said he had fired once into the floor. The shooting occurred in the elder Miller's home, next door to a bait and sporting goods shop he and his son operated in suburban Reading.

Reading police ordered the father held without charge pending a further investigation.

Reading Patrolmen Fred Arthur and Fred Engelman said the father wept a he told them he and his son had quarreled two days about the automobile. He said his son then quit the bait shop Monday but returned last night to get money due him.

The quarrel started again and police said they were told the elder Miller ordered his son out of the house and then went into the store. He returned a few minutes later with a gun, the officers said.

Police said the father kept repeating, "What made me do it? Lord knows I didn't mean to kill him. Why didn't he kill me?"

Russell Tongay Is Ruled Insane

RAIFORD, Fla. — Russell Tongay has been ruled insane and will be transferred from state prison to the Florida State Hospital.

The former Miami swimming instructor, serving 10 years for the death of his 5-year-old Aquatots daughter, Kathy, is a manic-depressive with suicidal tendencies, according to the order committing him to the hospital.

County Judge S. B. Brooks signed the order Wednesday after a sanity hearing suggested by Gov. Leroy Collins. The news did not become known until Monday.

Warden DeWitt Sinclair said Tongay, now 38, has been a "very troublesome prisoner" since being confined at state prison after his conviction on manslaughter at Miami in 1954.

Tongay, a former Coast Guardsman, was convicted on a charge that he forced Kathy to make a 33-foot dive that fatally injured her. Kathy and her brother Bubba performed at swimming exhibitions over the country under the billing "Aquatots."

SHERIFFS CHANGE FAST

LONDON, Ohio — They're having a hard time keeping a sheriff in Madison County.

Sheriff Joseph S. Smith has resigned, effective Thursday, because of "other business interests." He had held the post since last Sept. 1. He was appointed when Sheriff Harold L. Bidwell quit to become county treasurer.

Another sheriff must be appointed to serve until January. A new sheriff will be elected in November.

Koppers Co. Buys Land Near East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio — Koppers Co., Inc., of Pittsburgh today announced the purchase of a 285-acre tract across the Ohio River from East Liverpool in Hancock County, W. Va., as a factory site.

The firm said the plant will be used to make micatonic acid, a vitamin B complex factor, and as a development facility to "work toward continuing upgrading of the coal-tar chemicals."

Koppers deals principally in coal tar products manufacturing.

Construction is to start next month, with completion scheduled for early in 1957.

The company did not disclose the estimated cost of the factory or the number of workers it will employ.

LIBRARY TO BE CLOSED

The Public Library will be closed Wednesday in observance of Memorial Day, James Fafer, librarian, announces.

Gov. Lausche To Be Put In Nomination

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Gov. Frank J. Lausche has insisted his chances are "nil" for the presidential nomination. But, nevertheless, he said Monday his name will be placed in nomination at the Democratic national convention in Chicago this August.

The five-term governor, who has received some national attention as a darkhorse possibility for a spot on the national ticket, confirmed that he will attend the convention.

As Ohio Democrats' "favorite son," he has 54 of the state's 38 convention votes pledged to him.

There will be no meeting of delegates before the convention, Lausche said.

Pirates Nip Dodgers 3-2; Long Hits 8th Homer In 8 Games

Braves Blast Cardinals 10-3

Yanks Beat Red Sox, Lead By 4½ Games

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

This, in case you hadn't noticed, is a brand new year in the National League.

A year ago, the NL went into the Memorial Day milepost strung out behind Brooklyn, with the Dodgers enjoying a six-game bulge and St. Louis and Milwaukee 11 games back. Pittsburgh, going through its regular pantomime, was 18 games to the rear and in the cellar.

That was last year. Right now Milwaukee is winning what has been a two-way scrap for the lead with St. Louis, while the Pirates are just a game back.

And where's Brooklyn? Three games back in fifth. Milwaukee blasted the Cardinals 10-3 Monday night, thus removing a screwy predicament that had been a length short in the "games behind" column but still in first. Pittsburgh made it cozy by nudging the Brooks 3-2 — with Bob Friend winning his eighth on a two-hitter and Dale Long hitting his eighth home run in eight games to better his major league record set Saturday.

Bob Rush's three-hitter tripped Cincinnati as the Chicago Cubs won 4-1. Philadelphia kept the road rocky for New York by beating the Giants 5-2.

In the American League, the race has the look of a romp. The New York Yankees grabbed a 4½-game lead, beating Boston 2-0 as Whitey Ford gained his seventh triumph and second shutout while the runner-up Cleveland Indians lost to Detroit 3-1. Kansas City dumped Chicago's White Sox 6-4, on a two-run homer by Enos Slaughter in the ninth, and Baltimore clipped Washington 6-5 in 10 innings.

The only hits off Friend, who has lost two, were a first-inning homer by Duke Snider and a one-out single by Junior Gilliam in the third. Carl Erskine was the loser. Bobby Thomson and Del Crandall homered for the Braves, who had a 6-0 lead in two frames to chase Herm Wehmeier. Gene Conley, in relief of Lou Sleater, was the winner.

Harvey Haddix, with ace Robin Roberts relieving in the eighth, won his first for the Phils.

Roy McMillan got two hits off Rush, who fanned seven and walked one, and scored a run that stood up until the fifth. Then the Cubs racked Joe Nuxhall for four runs — two on a bases-loaded double by Ernie Banks.

Ford, in trouble only twice, scattered five Boston hits while the Yanks made the most of four singles off Frank Sullivan. Two in the first and an infield out by Yogi Berra, back from an eight-game stay on the injury list, scored one run. Two errors by shortstop Bob Buddin helped the other across in the fourth.

Steve Gromek six-hit the Indians while the Tigers got two runs in the fifth on Bob Kennedy's ground-rule double and a force-out to hand Herb Score his fourth defeat.

The White Sox blew a 2-0 lead as Kansas City scored four in the eighth with homers by Gus Zernial and Jim Finigan. They tied it with two in the top of the ninth. Billy Pierce went in as a reliever in the bottom of the ninth. He walked a man, and then came Slaughter.

Reliever Mike Fornieles doubled in the 10th and came home with the clincher for the Orioles on Chuck Diering's single.

New York—Charley Cotton, 154, Toledo, Ohio, defeated Joey Giardello, 160, Philadelphia, 10.

Cotton Scores 2nd Win Over Giardello

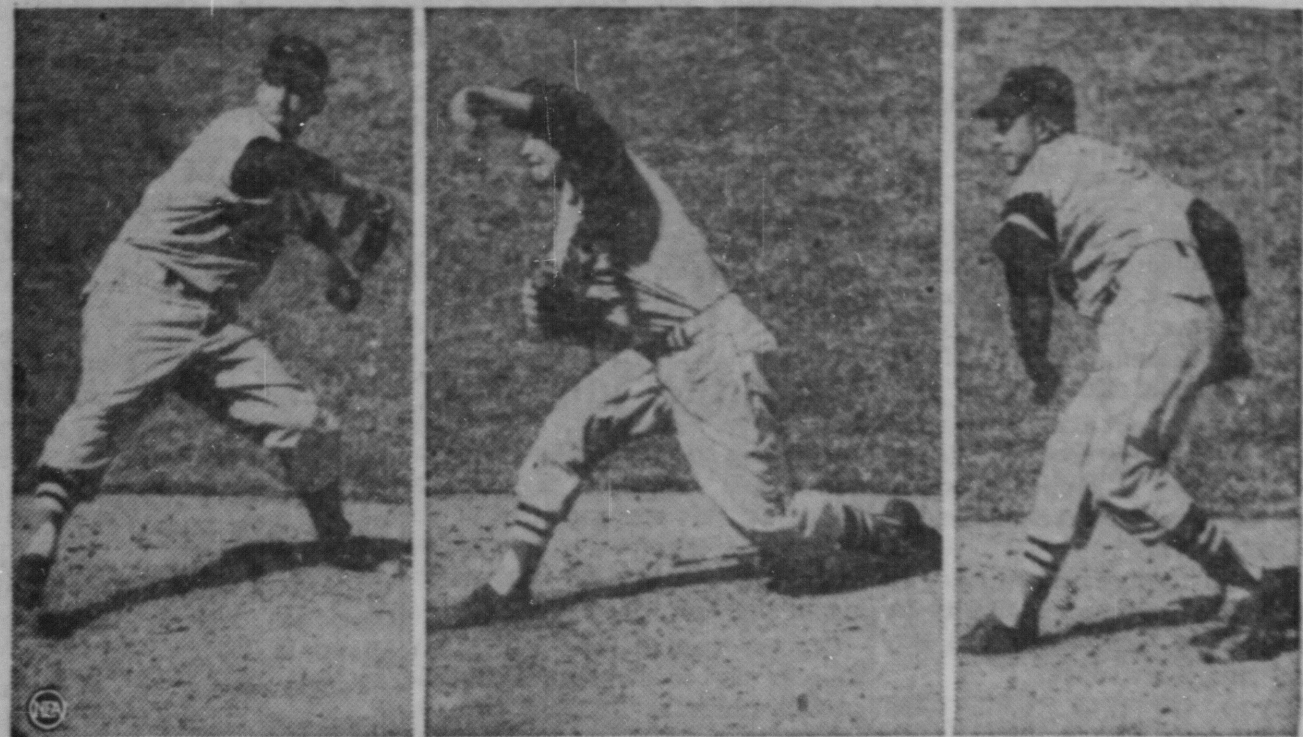

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley (King) Cotton had his second straight victory over Joey Giardello, a reputation, and a few offers against more "name" fighters today.

"The breaks are finally coming my way," said the happy, 26-year-old ex-Marine from Toledo, Ohio. "I don't care how close the officials call 'em as long as they have me ahead. Of course knocking 'em out makes it a whole lot easier."

The officials gave Cotton a split decision edge over Giardello in their bruising 10-round telecast tussle at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. Cotton was an 8-5 underdog despite his close but unanimous triumph over the onetime top-ranked middleweight contender in the same arena three weeks ago.

Victory brought Cotton offers for a July 9 date against either unbeaten Rory Calhoun or Gil Turner for the St. Nick's, a possible engagement for Madison Square Garden and a June 19 bid for Toledo, Ohio.

Cotton, outweighted 160 to 154, made the fight against the counter punching Philadelphian. It was only in the first round that Joey, 25, fought a full three minutes and looked like the fighter who

Record Entry Expected At Canfield Race

A record entry of some 50 cars will get the starters flag in the 200-lap classic at Canfield on Memorial Day. This will be the biggest major racing event in Ohio on Memorial Day and a twin-bill is scheduled.

Time trials for the 100-mile race on the half-mile track get under way at noon and the long grind gets under way at 2:30 p.m. Then at 8:30 p.m. the same cars will compete in a five-race card which is headed by a 100-lap duel. Time trials for the evening session, slated for the quarter-mile track, start at 7 p.m.

At present 44 cars are entered and the list is expected to reach 50 by race time. Of these at least 35 will be brand new 1956 models.

There will also be several convertibles in the lineup.

Among outstanding drivers entered are nationally known Hershel White of Indianapolis, who will have a 1956 Oldsmobile. Jack Harrison of Indianapolis and Nelson Stacey of Cincinnati, two of the winningest pilots in the mid-west will add to the activity. Harrison has a 1956 Chevrolet and Stacey a 1956 Oldsmobile convertible.

Dick Linder of Pittsburgh and Mike Klapak of Warren will renew their rivalry in 1956 Plymouth Furs. Russ Hepler of Clarion will have a 1956 Pontiac. Among other popular pilots will be Bobby Hunter of Indianapolis, ggy Katona, MARC's 1955 new car champ in a 1956 Ford, Dick Bailey of Grove City, Jerry Carver of Canfield and many others.

Detroit Hands Indians, Herb Score, 3-1 Loss

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three Detroit Tigers who played most of their past major league careers for Cleveland ganged up on the Tribe last night.

Pitcher Steve Gromek, third baseman Ray Boone and outfielder Bob Kennedy were the key men in the 3-1 Detroit victory which dropped the Indians another game behind the New York Yankees.

Gromek, with the Tribe 11 seasons until 1953, doled out six hits, three of them to the first three batters he faced. Jim Busby tripled and Bob Avila and Al Smith singled to produce a first-inning Cleveland run.

Boone, who spent six seasons with the Indians up to 1953, collected three of the Tigers' eight hits, including his seventh home run of the season. His homer in the sixth was the last Tiger run and his fourth-inning single was part of a rally that accounted for the other two runs off Herb Score.

The loss was Score's fourth against five won. Gromek has a 3-3 mark.

Crowd Goes Wild as Long Homers Again

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"I got chills all over. It was bigger than the one in Philadelphia. I am glad it happened in Pittsburgh for the people who deserve it."

Dale Long, who threatens to out-Mantle Mickey Mantle, stood in the Pittsburgh clubhouse after Monday night's 3-2 victory over Brooklyn. He was doing his best to tell how it felt to hit his eighth home run in eight games, breaking the major league record he set Saturday in Philadelphia.

"Have you got any left?" somebody asked.

"Who cares as long as we keep on winning," he replied.

"Did you ever see a bunch of kids like this? They just keep bouncing back when they're supposed to be knocked out."

"At first I didn't think it was going in (the ball just did make the right field stands, about 375 feet from the plate). I just put my head down and ran. When I passed Bobby Bragan (Pirates manager) at third, I just shook my head because it was hard to believe."

But the big thing was what happened next.

After Long trundled home with his 14th homer and disappeared into the gloomy confines of the dugout, the roaring crowd of 32,221 stopped the show. They wouldn't let the game continue until Long took a bow. They cheered wildly without a letup while Carl Erskine, Brooklyn pitcher, tried to throw to Frank Thomas.

Finally, Long popped his head out of the dugout, doffed his cap and waved to the frantic customers who are beginning to talk about Long, not Mantle, breaking Babe Ruth's record.

Record Seen At Indianapolis

15 Drivers Qualify Over Previous Record

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Four former winners of the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race predicted today that Wednesday's 40th running of the event will produce a record several miles an hour faster than the late Bill Vukovich's 1954 mark of 130.84.

The prediction looked sound, in view of the fact that 15 drivers in the 33-car field qualified their cars at speeds above the previous Indianapolis Speedway record for the 10-mile trials.

Bob Sweikert of Indianapolis, last year's winner after Vukovich was killed in a four-car crash while leading the race, said it might take 136 m.p.h. to win.

Bill Holland of Indianapolis, the 1949 winner, also figured it would take a 135 or 136 m.p.h. pace.

Johnnie Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., 1950 winner, said he was counting on a 135-plus pace and Troy Ruttman, 1952 winner, said it would take over 134.5 to win.

These experts represent all the winners since 1949 except Vukovich, the 1953 and 1954 champion. Ruttman, Parsons and Sweikert are in Wednesday's field and all are rated as strong contenders.

Ruttman has the Kurtis-Kraft in which Sweikert won last year.

Parsons, who qualified at 144.144 m.p.h. has a new Kuzma racer, owned by promoter J.C. Agajanian of San Pedro, Calif.

Sweikert will drive another new Kuzma entered by an Indianapolis racing group.

The former winners had to yield qualifying honors to three veteran drivers who pushed the 10-mile speed above 145 m.p.h. for the first time. Pat Flaherty of Chicago set the record at 145.596. Johnny Thompson of Springfield, Mass., did 145.549 and Jim Rathmann of Miami, 145.120.

The field averaged 142.507 in the trials, compared with last year's 138.796, a record up to that time. Credit for most of the increase went to a new rock asphalt surface on all of the 2½ mile track except .8 of a mile on the west straightaway.

A flash flood from three days of rain sent rivulets trickling across the track Monday from a normally small creek that runs under the south end of the track. The water receded rapidly late in the day.

Officials decided the wet spots made the track too hazardous for any further qualifying attempts and 12 drivers were left at the line.

Races Are Held By Berlin Yacht Club

The lightning class division at the Berlin Yacht Club participated in the races Sunday and last Wednesday when all boats finished in a near record of 40 to 42 minutes.

Winners of the race Wednesday were R. N. Zuber, first; F. R. Mathews, second; Earl Zuber, third; and John Derby, fourth.

Sailing in the rain Sunday, winners were Commodore Earl Zuber, first; Mathews, second; R. M. Zuber, third; and Derby, fourth.

All fleets will be sailing in the Memorial Day races tomorrow. Visitors are welcome to attend the two races scheduled for 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

The racing schedule at the yacht club includes 12 Sunday races and 12 Wednesday races for each fleet which includes the highlanders, lightnings, y-flier, and development classes. Winners of each fleet division later will race for the commodore trophy which climaxes the sailing season at the club.

Emmor Schneider was second and Frank LeFevre was fourth in the regatta at Indianapolis which the two members participated in last weekend.

Al Rosen Knows Why Fans Got Burned Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's injured third baseman, Al Rosen, whose rough treatment by booby fans sent Manager Al Lopez's blood pressure up 10 days ago, says he knows now "why the fans get burned up at me when I leave men on base."

Rosen, out with a damaged right knee, has followed the Tribe on radio and television. He watched every inning of the seven-hour, 38-minute doubleheader in Chicago Sunday.

One of the things Rosen said he learned was how the fans who booed him must have felt when he left nine men stranded on the bases in the game in which he was injured. Lopez berated Cleveland fans for cheering when a base runner knocked Rosen down.

cars ARE MY Line

by Al Parker

When quiz shows were the big rage on the radio, one of the best was Information Please. It set the pattern for a lot of the "panel" programs that came along later. I'm not sure whether it's still on the air or not, but when I used to listen to it they had four of the brainiest people in the States on the show every week to answer the most difficult questions people could send in.

I remember there was an automobile accident once that was blamed on Information Please.

It was a minor accident, a man went through a red light and struck another car. When it got to court, he explained it this way:

"Your Honor, I was listening to Information Please on the car radio and after a lot of difficult questions they asked the four experts to suddenly close their eyes and tell what color of necktie they were wearing."

"Franklin P. Adams and John Klernan and the others closed their eyes and they couldn't remember what tie they had on."

"I was playing along with them trying to answer the questions and I closed my eyes just as I got to the corner. And you know, I didn't know what tie I was wearing either."

He lost the court case, too.

Radios, I guess, can be a distraction when you're driving, some people refuse to have them on. I like the radio on for long drives, I think it helps keep you alert. I'm not one to close my eyes as I reach an intersection, anyway.

When you're shopping for a used car, the fact that some cars are already equipped with radio can be a big consideration. When you're looking them over at our place, take the car of your choice out for a test drive first, and try the radio, too.

Bayard, Youngstown Kitchens, Marvels, Kupkas Win Games

Bayard Grange, Youngstown Kitchens, the Deming Marvels and Kupka's All Stars captured wins in Class AA and Industrial League play last night at Kelley Park.

In the Bayard Grange-Parker game, John McQuiston of Parkers allowed only one hit, but lost the game 3-0. A defensive lapse by Parkers and timely base running by Bayard swung the game in the favor of the Grangers.

Walt Rhodes won the game allowing only two hits in a fine pitching battle with McQuiston.

Youngstown Kitchens handed Bliss a 14-1 blasting as Sonny Guthrie gave up 4 hits in the route.

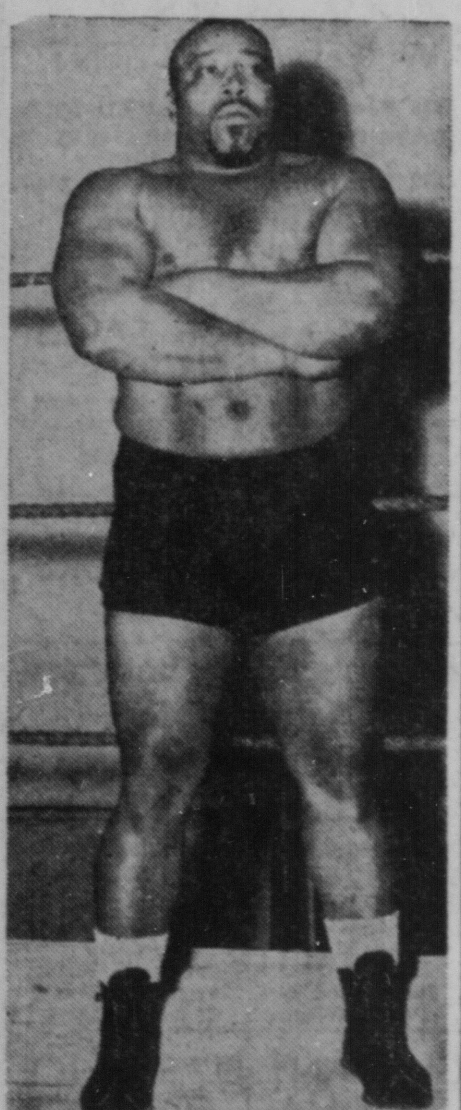

Youngstown Kitchens rapped out 11. Bunts by Dale Middeker and Ed Webber led the game in the third inning as they set the score to 8-0. The winners got 7 out of the 11 hits in the fourth inning as they boosted their lead to 14-1. The win was Guthrie's third and Jocko Chamberlain took the loss.

The Deming Marvels jumped off to a 7-1 lead at the end of two frames in their fray with the Electric Furnace and scored one each in the third and fourth to chalk the win with no difficulty. Bill Ehrhart pitched and batted his team to the win, his third, while Marsh Sutherland was handed the loss.

The Kupka All-Stars remained in first place in the Class A loop last night as they trounced Chick Morgan 10-5. The All-Stars were trailing 3-2 at the end of three innings, but they caught fire in the fourth frame scoring five runs and they clinched it with two more in the fifth and one in the sixth. Bill Schuster and Jerry Cosgrove blasted two-run homers to pace the winners. Schuster also picked up the win and Good received the loss.

Obituary

Mrs. William VanHorn

Mrs. Bessie VanHorn, 85, of 417 E. 7th St. died at 9 a.m. Monday at City Hospital. She was in ill health two years.

She was born in East Palestine April 25, 1871, a daughter of David and Mary Forney.

She was a member of the Rebekah Lodge and the Methodist Church at East Fairfield.

Her husband, William VanHorn, died in 1930.

She leaves several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home. Burial will be in Fairfield Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday evening at the funeral home.

Mrs. Adams Funeral

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Stark Memorial for Mrs. Mary Adams, 79, of Ambridge, Pa., who died at 2 a.m. Monday, following a four-year illness.

Rev. Haesley, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church of Ambridge, will officiate, with interment in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Memorial Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Adams was born in Austria-Hungary Aug. 12, 1876. She came to the United States 49 years ago and lived in Ambridge 30 years. She formerly resided in Salem.

She was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church of Ambridge and the Ladies Saxon Society Branch 18 of Salem.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. John Smith, with whom she resided, Mrs. Frank Hoprich and

Mrs. John Pauline of Salem

Mrs. Michael Orend of Ambridge; three sons, John of Alliance and Michael and George of Aliquippa, Pa.; 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Her husband, John, died in 1918 and a son, Martin, also preceded her in death.

Finnie Funeral

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Paul Catholic Church for Andrew Finnie, 75, of the Metzger Hotel, who died of a heart attack at 8:30 a.m. Monday. Burial will be in Glasgow, Scotland.

Friends may call at Stark Memorial Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Emery Stallsmith

BERLIN CENTER — Mrs. Edith Sickman Stallsmith, 66, of RD 1, Berlin Center, died of a heart condition at 3 a.m. today at Salem City Hospital, following a five-year illness.

She was born in Burton, Ind., July 13, 1889, the daughter of James A. and Alice Yarnan Sickman. Her husband, Emery Stallsmith of Berlin Center whom she married Sept. 4, 1909, died five years ago.

A resident here 46 years coming from Cleveland, she was a member of the Berlin Center Methodist Church and a charter member of Linfield Temple No. 512 Pythian Sisters.

Survivors include two daughters, Miss Dorothy Stallsmith of Berlin Center and Mrs. William Siegenthaler of Salem; a son, Paul of Berlin Center; and a granddaughter.

Services will be held at 2 p.m.

Carleton E. Campbell

NEW GARDEN — Carleton E. Campbell, 61, a merchant, died of complications Monday in the Salem Central Clinic at 2:30 p.m. following a five-week illness.

Owner of a grocery store here, he had formerly operated a grocery store in Dungannon and had been a Hanoverton restaurant owner for 15 years.

Born in Barnesville June 19, 1894, he was a member of the Barnesville Methodist Church.

He had lived in the Hanoverton vicinity for 27 years.

Survivors include his wife, Lillie Ridgeway Campbell of the home; a son, Lawrence with the Air Force in Greenland; two grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Grace Dyer of Bethesda; and a brother, John of Canton.

Funeral services will be Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the Maple Funeral Home in Kensington. Interment will be in Grove Hill Cemetery in Hanoverton.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday afternoon and evening.

DEERFIELD — The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carver of Deerfield died at 7:20 p.m. Monday at Salem City Hospital where he was born Sunday.

Memorial Day Service Set In Greenford

The Green Township Sunday School Union will hold a Memorial Day service at the Greenford square Wednesday morning at 9:30 when Rev. Robert Harriman of the Youngstown Evergreen Presbyterian Church will speak.

Musical selections will be played by the Greenford High School Band which will march from the school to the village square.

In case of inclement weather, the service will be held at the school.

Country Club Dance Set Wednesday At 9

Salem Country Club activities will be given added impetus Wednesday, Memorial Day, with a dance in the evening.

The dance is scheduled for 9 p.m. in the clubhouse, with music being furnished by Arnie Arnold's orchestra. Daniel Smith is social committee chairman.

The holiday brings the opening of the season for the Country Club.

MEETING IS CANCELED

LISBON — The regular meeting of Village Council scheduled for last night was not held because several members were unable to attend. The next scheduled meeting will be held Monday, June 11, according to Mayor Wilbur Warren.

67 Receive Diplomas At Goshen School

"Each person should live spiritually as well as educationally," Dr. Robert N. Montgomery of Muskingum College told graduating seniors of Goshen Union High School at the commencement exercises last night in the school auditorium. Dr. Montgomery's subject was "The Mind of One Man."

A need of more moral and spiritual teachings in the school was stressed by Dr. Montgomery who said that "What you are to be you are becoming." Clinton Heacock, superintendent of Goshen Township schools, introduced the speaker.

The class of 67 graduating seniors received diplomas from Glenn Shreve, president of the Board of Education. The class was presented to the Board by Herbert Gorby, school principal; and James Earley, president of the senior class, gave a gift to the school.

In her valedictory address, Marie Hobe, who spoke about "We Remember and We Are Grateful," explained that the seniors must now make their own decisions and accept their own responsibilities although they were aided previously by their parents and teachers.

Salutatorian Lanny Brunner, whose subject was "We Salute You," enumerated numerous beneficial actions done for the school and the students by the teachers and faculty.

Rev. James V. Ingram, pastor of the East Beech Bethel Reformed Church, gave the invocation; and Rev. Winston Smith, pastor of the Bunker Hill Methodist Church, the benediction. Music was by the high school orchestra.

auxiliary, Dads of Foreign Service Veterans, the Salem Council of Girl Scouts and intermediate and senior Girl scouts will march to Grandview Cemetery, headed by the Salem High School Band.

Rev. Fr. John Duffy of New London will be speaker and Lt. Helen Beekman of the local Salvation Army Citadel will serve as chaplain at Hope Cemetery.

William Jacobson and Doris Shoop, Salem High School students, will give the "Gettysburg Address" and "Flanders Field," respectively. Elaine Cavanaugh, also of Salem High School, will give the "Response to Flanders Field."

Captain John Hanson of Elyria, formerly with the Salvation Army Corps here, will give the address at Grandview Cemetery, and Gordon Howe of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars unit will be chaplain. The VFW color guard and memorial unit also will participate in the service.

Ernest Moser of the American Legion will serve as president of the day; Howard McGaffick as parade marshal; Carl Burcaw, chairman, and H. D. Huttenhower, secretary.

JAILED FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Earl Miller, 34, of 343 W. 8th St. was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for drunk driving by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Miller was arrested at 3 a.m. Sunday while driving on W. 8th St.

East Palestine Child Drowns In Trough

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — Coroner Ernest Sturgis said today a 17-month-old boy drowned Sunday night in a makeshift trough for watering cattle on a nearby East Palestine farm.

The trough was a 24-inch sewer pipe standing on end.

Jerry William Beight tumbled headfirst into the pipe while his mother was hanging up a washing and his father was working in a field.

The use of resuscitator equipment was delayed when firemen had to carry it over a section of Ohio 70, where a bridge was washed out two weeks ago.

Parks

Stove League baseball games. The basketball, tennis and volleyball courts are available for free play in the park. Swings and slides have been repainted and checked for safety and have already received heavy use this season.

Boy Scout Explorer Post 56 aided park maintenance crews in cleaning up broken trees after the recent storm and helped cut wood for the fireplaces.

Kelley Park is in use by the Softball Association and has four games a night scheduled.

The Park Commission reports that Memorial Park is still essentially undeveloped. The commission hopes to open three diamonds to the Hot Stove League this year.

At the present time, however, only one diamond is ready for use. Plans for the park also include a wild life area, model airplane airport and picnic and play facilities.

Guilford Lake, where swimming will also open tomorrow, has been stocked this spring with two and one-half tons of walleyed pike, ranging from two to seven pounds in weight.

Swimming at the Salem Country Club will open tomorrow and members and guests will close the day's events by dancing to the music of Arnie Arnold's Band from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Cartaker Raymond Meese and his crew have been busy for the past month getting the grounds and equipment in readiness for the summer season.

An organized program of recreation, including swimming classes in the morning and supervised swimming in the afternoon, tennis, horseshoe pitching, badminton, volleyball matches and softball games is planned for the summer.

As soon as the weather permits, a capital improvement program will be started at the club which will include the construction of a new bathhouse and refreshment stand and the grading and filling with sand of the beach.

At Seaveken Country Club, which will open officially tomorrow, the grounds have been cleaned and readied and a new water feed line to the swimming pool has been installed.

The club's tennis and horseshoe courts have been improved and picnic facilities are ready for the opening. A dance starting at 9 p.m. with music by Frank Uselton's orchestra, including round and square dancing, will close the day.

Facilities at Westville Lake are in preparation for holiday crowds. The bathhouses, which were damaged by the recent storm, have been repaired and swimming will open tomorrow. Picnic facilities are also ready for the opening.

Workers at the lake have been busy treating the water with chemicals to kill much of the vegetation. Bass fishing will not close this year for spawning, and many fishermen have taken in large bass up to 16 inches in length.

One Driver Fined, Two Forfeit Bonds In Lisbon

LISBON — One driver was fined and two forfeited bonds in Mayor Wilbur Warren's court Monday.

Fined was Robert Melvin, 24, of RD, East Liverpool, $50 for improper registration.

Emil Kramer, 36, of Uniontown, Pa., forfeited a $25 bond for having no driver's license, and John Sinchak, 41, of Smock, Pa., forfeited a $25 bond for towing another vehicle with an insufficient tow chain.

CRAFT CLASS CANCELED

The weekly craft class sponsored by the city park commission in the Memorial Building has been cancelled for tomorrow due to the holiday and the opening of the city park system, Lee Burton, director of parks and recreation, announced today.

Abortion

an abortion at the hands of Leo Pijuan, 46, a male nurse and son of a Puerto Rican surgeon.

Pijuan, who had pleaded innocent to a manslaughter charge, switched his plea to guilty during the trial. He testified for the state that he cut Jacqueline's body into 35 pieces, wrapped them in Christmas gift paper and threw them into trash baskets on Manhattan streets. No part of the corpse was ever found.

"There is no evidence at all that Tom Daniel ever touched that girl," Diana argued. "Personally, I don't believe her body ever was dismembered. But, just for the sake of argument, let's assume that the body was dismembered."

Says Surgeon Needed

"I don't believe Pijuan was capable of doing that. It would take the skill and nerves of an experienced surgeon, and I believe Dr. Mireles is capable of that."

Dr. Ramiro Mireles, a friend of Pijuan's, testified that he was summoned to Daniel's apartment in the midst of the abortion. He said he pronounced Miss Smith dead and left after advising Pijuan and Daniel to notify police.

The state did not implicate Mireles in the girl's death. The defense, however, tried to discredit his testimony by suggesting that he acted as an accomplice.

In summation for the state, Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herman called Daniel "a conceited, arrogant, self-centered, over-bearing young man—this cooker of capons, this connoisseur of French cooking."

Then he asked the jury: "Was this girl impressed by him? Did she go for him? Did he take over this little girl from Pennsylvania?"

"Who had the best motive for having an abortion performed on Jackie? Who spoke of two alternatives—Marriage or abortion?"

He referred to testimony that Miss Smith wanted marriage but agreed to an abortion after Daniel's denial that he was responsible for Jacqueline's pregnancy, although admitting they lived together. He then said:

"Daniel has the scandalous temerity—scandalous liar that he is—to claim that she disappeared for two days, this girl who was in love with him, and conceived by some stranger and not by him."

should limit participation this year to land intended for cotton, wheat, peanuts, rice, tobacco and corn but not yet planted, the participation would be limited and the total payments small.

But should he permit farmers to plow up a part of the land planted to these crops—as he has authority to do—the participation could be relatively large and the payments substantial.

It is known that Benson is reluctant to offer payments for plowing up crops lest such action draw consumer complaints and lest it do little toward cutting production of surplus crops, which is the prime goal of the program.

Based upon inquiries reaching the department, officials believe that most farmers would be willing to plow up only land which already is destined to crop failure because of adverse weather. Hence, they say, offer of payments on such land would gain little toward a net cut in production.
